CAT Connects: Carlisle Chamber Legislative Committee

(Carlisle) - CAT public information staff met with about 25 Carlisle Chamber members, including Rep. Steve Bloom and staff from Sen. Vance and Congressman Barletta's offices last week to review the status of the Carlisle Circulator in its first six months of service. "CAT has served 3,400 riders to date on the three current Circulator routes," Bob Philbin, CAT spokesperson said. "Service has been steadily increasing as folks adjust their transit options to include buses." A review of the circulator routes is scheduled for late October.

CAT Planning Department is reviewing route adjustments to include the Cumberland County Public Assistance Office, Project Share food bank, and the U.S. Army War College. "To better connect local employers and Harrisburg employees, we're also looking at coordinated service and shift schedules for the major warehouse employers in the area," he said.

Carlisle Rotary Club to Donate Bus Shelter

(Carlisle) - As a contribution to the Carlisle Circulator program, the Rotary Club of Carlisle will donate and install a bus shelter in front of the Cumberland County Courthouse on S. Hanover Street in the Borough of Carlisle. CAT will soon install two bus shelters adjacent to the Courthouse on East High Street.

Transit Habits: Can Change After Major Life Events

(CityLab) -- Getting people to change their commute mode is extremely difficult for authorities, companies and cities alike. Decades of transit improvements have made only a tiny dent in car commuting. Beneath it all is the fact that over time a commute choice becomes so habitual that it's not a choice at all, but rather the response to daily cues that occur more or less without any thought. Major turning points in life have been linked to shifts in car ownership and transit, this study found.

CAT FACT: More than 152,000 Senior Riders traveled on a CAT fixed-route bus to date this year, an increase of 8,762 riders (+6.1%) over the same period last year.
